DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

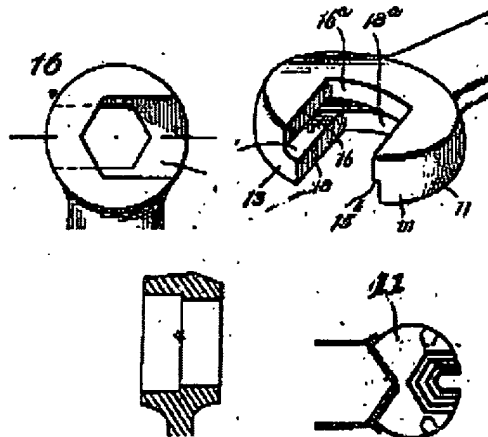

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by anyone of Griswold (37,865), Jeffery (916,951), Lukowski (1,088,786) or Herrman (1,297,846).

Anyone of Griswold, Jeffery, Lukowski or Herrman discloses all of the limitations of claim 1, i.e., dual function end overlapped having clamping spaces of different from and in communications.

Regarding claim 2, reference above meet the limitations, fixed jaws having flat surfaces.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

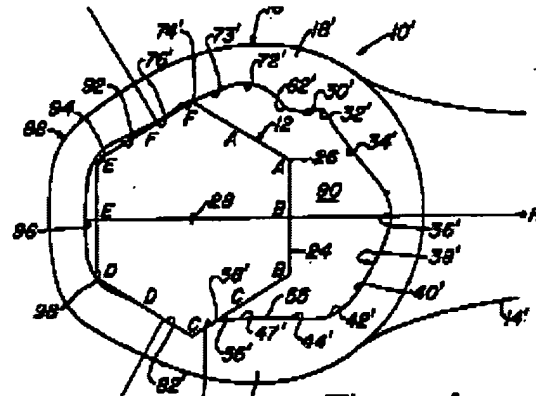

4. Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over anyone of Griswold, Jeffery, Lukowski or Herrman in view of Baker (6,158,309).

Art Unit: 3723

Prior art as applied to claim 1 meets the limitations of the above claims, except for the specific shape of the jaws and the type of the function end, i.e., ratcheting. Baker teaches ratcheting wrenches having open and box ends, where the jaws have convex portions and protrusions facing toward the other jaw.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to change the shape and/or type of the function ends in view of Baker in adapting the tool for ratcheting and, since it has been held that changing shape, dependent on work-piece parameters, involves only routine skill in the art. In re Stevens, 101 US PQ 284(CCPA1954).

Conclusion

5. Prior art made of record and not relied upon are considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Evans and Montgomery are cited to show related inventions.
